

Namifiers, LLC, Donates to Raise Breast Cancer Awareness

Springville, Utah – 1 October 2008 – Namifiers, LLC, a United States manufacturer of identification and promotional products , recently donated over $1,000 to the Atlanta 2-Day Walk for Breast Cancer in Atlanta, Georgia, set to start Saturday, September 20th.

The Atlanta 2-Day Walk for Breast Cancer is a 10 to 30-mile walk across Atlanta. Over 1,200 members of the community and individuals from out-of-state will come to participate in the 6th annual walk. To date, the Atlanta 2-Day Walk has raised $4 million and awarded 85 grants for programs that range from breast cancer awareness and education to early detection and support activities.

Sponsorship for the 2-Day Walk is one of the many diverse events that Namifiers has chosen to support each year. They also make annual contributions to several charities including the Susan G. Komen Foundation. This year, Namifiers is starting a Pink Campaign, where they are offering discounts on all pink merchandise ordered during the month of October.

Brad Gasaway, the Vice President of Marketing at Namifiers, LLC, loves being involved with the community and is proud that Namifiers, LLC, donated money to such an important cause.

“Our company exists on the premise that positive things happen when people unify to further a cause,” said Gasaway. “Winning the fight against breast cancer is among the noblest of prospects, and it is one that we will continue to support until a cure is found. We encourage citizens everywhere to find a way, whether great or small, to show your support in the bout against breast cancer. It affects the human family, therefore, it affects you and me.”
